lay person in the value of essential oils

AROMATHERAPY SEMINARS 2011

Enhance your work as a complementary professional by using essential oils as part of the therapy that you work with.

Research has shown that aromatherapy has been very successful in benefiting clients both physiologically and psychologically. In order to boost your client's progress and sense of well being, aromatherapy is becoming an ever increasingly popular modality to be used. Using the correct blends, making the best application with the best standard of oils is an essential part of being an Aromatherapist.

For this to become part of your profession good training is of paramount importance.

DERWEN HOLISTIC THERAPIES is offering Seminars in the education of Clinical Aromatherapy.

One day Seminars will commence January 2011 and they will carry 6 C.E. hours
